

QR codes are a global phenomenon that is both innovative and intriguing. The use of this technology, usually depicted by black-and-white square grids, has rapidly risen in recent years. QR codes can be decoded using Smartphones, electronic devices with cameras, and scanning applications. They provide users instant access to websites, links, and other information. This convenience empowers users by making tasks accessible at any time.

QR codes, which stand for Quick Response Code, are not limited to a specific industry or use. Retail stores, schools, advertising industries, hospitals, and anyone who wants to share information use them. The versatility of QR codes is fascinating, as they can be placed on any object that can be seen and scanned. You can find them in restaurants, billboards, TV commercials, and mailings. They have even been placed on clothing such as T-shirts.

Stores are leveraging the power of QR Codes to boost the holiday shopping experience. These QR codes are a means to draw customers to their brick-and-mortar and online stores for BIG Christmas sales as people look for that perfect gift at a great price. However, Christians know that Christmas is more than scrambling for the best deals.

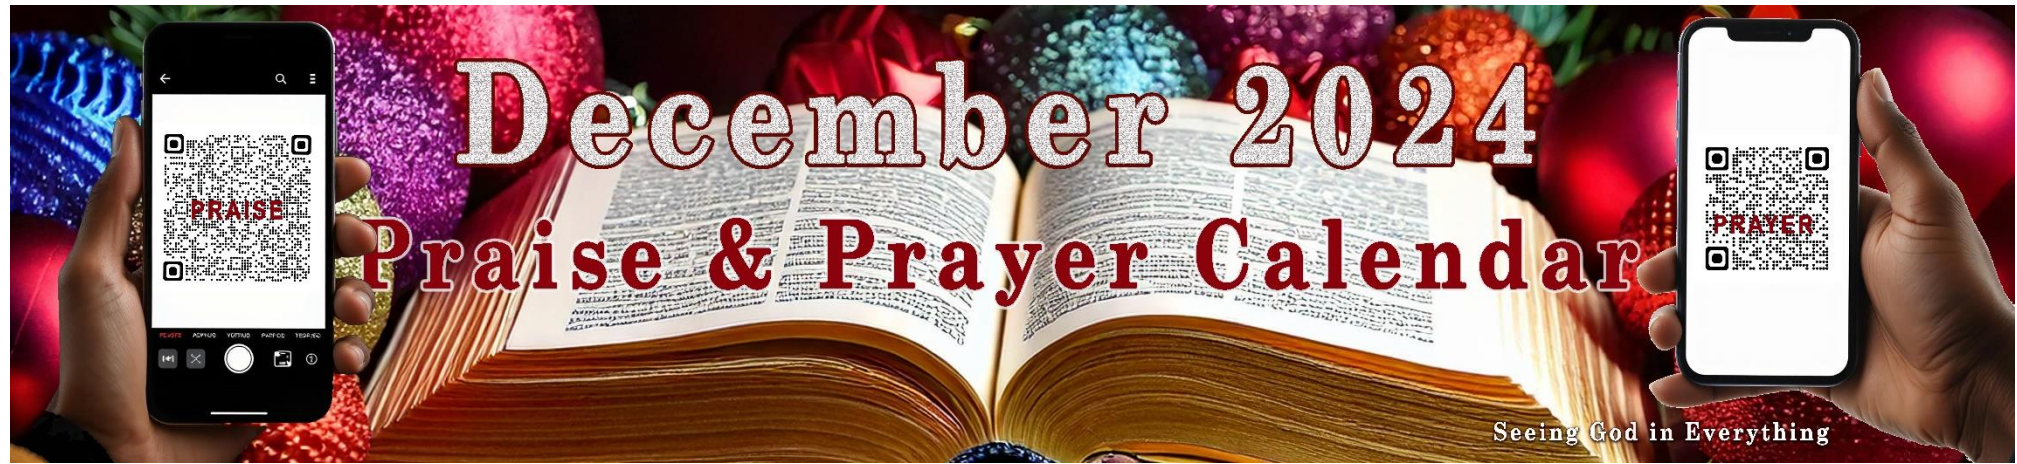

As believers, we are entrusted with a spiritual QR code—a Quality Response Code that guides us to a quality and treasured resource... the Bible. God expects more than just a scan of the Bible. He desires that we immerse ourselves in His word daily. His word is His response to our need for His priceless gift, His Son Jesus Christ.

May we eagerly unwrap the gift of true peace and joy from God. Let us yearn for the gift of spending quality time with our Lord. We can engage in the perfect gift exchange by allowing God to transform our old way of living into a life that pleases Him. Most of all, we can receive the most perfect gift from above—eternal life with God.

Dear Father, thank You for your quality response to our every need. May we be quick to respond to Your word.

Every QR Code on the devotional page and calendar is scannable.
